RED WHITE AND BLUE

Words by STEPHEN FAY

Music by ARTHUR BERGH

A SONG OF THE FLAG

Boston
C.C. Birchard & Co.

RED, WHITE AND BLUE

Words by STEPHEN FAY

Music by ARTHUR BERGH

Tempo di Marcia

PIANO f mf
1. Flags fly-ing ev-'ry-where, Borne on the morn-ing air, Col - ors that
2. Far in a strick-en land, There shall our ban-ner stand, Sym - bol of
mf
stir ev-'ry heart that beats true, Flags that up - hold the right, all we are fight-ing to save. There shall it proud-ly fly, Em-blems of hon-or bright, Flags that lead us straight on to vic-to-ry! Hur-
Sign of a purpose high, Ev - 'ry star shall guide us to vic-to-ry! Hur-

Copyright, 1918, by C.C. Birchard & Company International Copyright Secured

f rah! for them, one and all, Fly - ing at Freedom's call, Bind - ing as rah! then, and for-ward all! Strike! till their stan-dards fall! Per - ish the broth - ers, the old and the new. But still let the loud-est cheer foe that would na-tions en - slave! And dai - ly the pledge re - new:
Ring for those col-ors dear: Red and white and blue!
Hearts must be strong and true, While our col - ors wave!
CHORUS
Red, white and blue! The col-ors for me and for you! In France they fly and by and by They'll be in Ger-man-y too! Red, white and blue!

There's a mes-sage in ev-er-y hue: They call us to fight For Free-dom and Right, With the Red and White and Blue! sf